WILL OF MRS. LUCY KEITH

Filed in the Mason County Court Saturday and Admitted to Probate.

In the Mason County Court Saturday a paper bearing date of January 3, 1916, and purporting to be the last will and testament of Mrs. Lucy Keith, deceased, was produced and ordered filed. The due execution of the paper was proven by the testimony of J. Ed Parker, one of the attesting witnesses thereto and by the signature of C. N. Bolinger, the other attesting witness, was fully proven by the testimony of J. N. Kehoe and the paper was admitted to probate.

By the terms of the will the estate is divided into four equal parts, one-fourth being left to her son, George C. Keith, one-fourth to her son, Thomas A. Keith, one-fourth to her grandchildren, Elizabeth Adamson and Keith Adamson, and one-fourth to her granddaughter, Lucy Keith Brownling.

Her two sons, George C. Keith and Thomas A. Keith, named in the will as executors, qualified as such without bond, as was requested in the will.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The Epworth League of the Third Street M. E. Church will have a Valentine Social at the church on next Wednesday evening. Some big feature events have been planned and a big time is looked forward to. A very interesting number of the League's Loyalquous Literary Ledger has been prepared and will be read. All who come made-up to represent some character will be admitted free. Others will be charged ten cents.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Fined by Fred J. Schatzmann, of Russellsburg, Ohio, and Well Known Here—is Said to Have Uttered Threats Against President Wilson.

Fred J. Schatzmann, 60 years old, of Russellsburg, Brown county, Ohio, wealthy retired farmer and real estate owner, was arrested Friday by Deputy United States Marshal John R. Haught, on a Federal warrant charging Schatzmann uttered threats against President Wilson January 17.

Schatzmann was brought to Cincinnati Friday afternoon and arraigned before United States Commissioner Adler. He denied guilt and was placed under bond for appearance before the Commissioner February 14 for preliminary hearing. His brother, C. R. Schatzmann, President of the Bank of Russellsburg, went on his bond.

Schatzmann, in a statement after his arrest, declared he had not made such statements as charged against him. He says he is the victim of an enigma.

Federal officials say Schatzmann cursed the President, and declared "some one will shoot him, before the end of the war" and that "President Wilson is the cause of all the trouble and hard times."

Schatzmann is one of the wealthiest men in Brown county and is prominently known in that section of Ohio. He is well known here.

SILVER TEA

The public is cordially invited to a Silver Tea at the Episcopal Church Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5:30 o'clock. There will be an exhibition of old and interesting quilts. Light refreshments and interesting readings by Mrs. W.H. Campbell and Miss Margaret Smith. Proceeds to be used for fund to send epileptics to the front.

SPECIAL SERVICE

Held at Christian Church Last Night In Honor of Boys Now in Service of Country—Principal Address Made by Hon. James N. Kehoe.

A special service in honor of the boys who have gone into military service was held at the Christian Church last night, a large crowd being present.

The principal address of the evening was given by Hon. James N. Kehoe and short talks were made by Messrs. Harry C. Curren and James B. Wood.

Following Mr. Woods address on "The Duties of the Church in Times of War" a large service flag four by seven feet, containing the stars for ten persons who are members of the church and Bible School was stowly raised. The entire audience arose in honor of the occasion as by this act the church dedicated the boys here represented by stars to their heroic service. A solo "America I Love You" was then sung by Secretary Carl Dods. The Honor Roll which contains the name of twenty-eight boys names of whom were given in Saturday's Public Ledger was displayed at the close of the service. The minister of the church, A. F. Stahl, offered a public prayer for each boy as his name was read by J. T. Kaeckley. Six of these boys represented by names on the Honor Roll are now in France.

The address of Hon. James N. Kehoe was exceedingly appropriate. Though he was optimistic as to the final results of the war, he was insistent that the people at home as well as the boys at the front must be willing to make large sacrifices.

The service will be long remembered by all who were present.

Mr. Gilbert Tolle, of Forest avenue, received a telegram last night that his son, Private Fred Tolle, who was stricken with spinal meningitis several days ago at Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Miss., is getting along nicely and his recovery is expected.

"The Princess Pat" musical comedy company, which will show at the Washington Theater today, matinee and night, arrived yesterday from Lexington. The members of the company are now putting up at the Whitehall and St. Charles hotels.

In the Mason County Court Saturday A. H. Dillon, of Sardinia, produced his commission from the Governor of Kentucky as a notary public of Mason county and qualified as such with C. L. Wood as surety on bond.

Miss Florence Dodson was given a surprise party by her sister, Mrs. William Dern, Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. A number of Miss Dodson's friends attended and all reported a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Mary Thomas has rented the O'Donnell property on Bridge street, which she will sub-rent to roomers.

REVIVAL OF INTEREST

Among Fraternal Orders of This City—Three Have Entered Heads of Respective Lodges During Past Two Months.

There seems to be a great revival of fraternal activities in this city at the present time. Practically all of the secret orders are putting forth efforts to increase their memberships and to go to a better attendance of the members now belonging.

During the past two months the Knights of Pythias, Eagles and Odd Fellows have had the honor and pleasure of entertaining some of the heads of their respective orders.

Early in December Limestone Lodge No. 36, K. of P., had as its guest the Grand Chancellor of Kentucky, Hon. Aubrey Barbour, of Newport.

About the middle of January the Maysville Aerie of Eagles had the pleasure of entertaining its Grand Worthy President, Dr. Carl G. Winter, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Hon. Harry Petzer, District Deputy.

On last Friday evening De Kalb and Ringgold lodges of Oddfellows were the hosts to the delegates here to attend a district meeting of the order and had as their guests Grand Master Peckham, Overstreet, of Louisville, and Grand Secretary R. G. Elliott, of Lexington.

Practically all the Maysville lodges are strong numerically and financially and are always recognized as among the leaders throughout the state.

NARROW ESCAPE

Adams County, Ohio, Man Has Thrilling Experience When Ice in North Fork Comes Down and Sweeps Away His Horses and Wagons—Horses Were Drowned.

A man by the name of Grimes, whose home is in Adams county, Ohio, had a narrow escape from death Saturday morning about 11 o'clock when in attempting to cross the East Fork tributary of Cabin creek in a big road wagon pulled by two horses, the heavy ice suddenly began to move and bearing down on him knocked the two horses off their feet and washed the wagon away with them.

Grimes, after a hard fight, succeeded in getting to shore. The horses were handicapped, however, by being fastened to the wagon and were drowned. The wagon was later recovered and was only slightly damaged.

That Grimes escaped with his life was remarkable as the current was very swift and the ice quite heavy.

ILLUSTRATED WAR LECTURE

It was announced both morning and evening in the Christian Church yesterday that Evangelist Clayton Brooks would be in Maysville Wednesday and would give an illustrated lecture on the Passion Play. Request has been made that he give his illustrated lecture on the war instead. There will be no charge at the door, the lecture will be open to the public. Mr. Brooks who is related to the Fife Brothers, comes Mason county as his father's home. He has many relatives living in the western part of the county. The lecture Wednesday evening will begin at 7 o'clock.

The Circuit Clerk's office was closed last Saturday afternoon out of respect for the late Hon. E. Newell, brother of Circuit Judge C. D. Newell.

Mr. Robert A. Cochran is able to be out after having been confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle.

STOCK SALES DIVISIONS

To House Charge of Weekly Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Tomorrow Night.

The Stock Sales Division of which Mr. A. L. Glasecock is director and Mike Brown, C. C. Arthur and Judge Purcell are members, will have charge of the regular weekly meeting, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, tomorrow evening, from 7 to 8 o'clock.

With the pressing demand for stock

sales of proper proportions, for a city of the size of Maysville, this meeting should command the attention of every citizen who is interested in the prosperity of his city.

One of our prominent citizens, who is well versed in the Conroy Day Stock Sales, has agreed to address the meeting. Several other members will give short talks suggesting plans for managing the proposed sales.

Every business man in Maysville should attend this meeting, and lend all the encouragement possible to the committee on arrangements. To bring back the old time Stock Sales will mean much to the city financially.

Every member of the Chamber of Commerce is permitted to invite a guest to attend this meeting with him.

The Stock Sales will be just as big as the citizens of Maysville make them.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

The services at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday were largely attended showing a deep interest in the meetings beginning tonight. Rev. J. Russell Crawford, a man of skill in such meetings, will speak at every service. The music will be suitable and inspiring, and all who come will receive an uplift and help in the religious life.

APPOINTED SPECIAL POLICEMAN

Mr. P. Ryan has been appointed special policeman to take the place of Mr. A. G. Stewart, who has resigned to accept a position as shipping clerk at the L. & N. freight depot.

POLICE COURT

In Police Court Saturday Bessie Haley, colored, was fined $5.00 on a charge of using language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace.

J. H. Hicks, Lucille Jackson and Allie Haley were each fined $6.50 on charges of disorderly conduct.

There will be a called meeting of City Council tonight at 7 o'clock.

STANDING BY THE PRESIDENT

In a heated speech in the Senate on Monday, John Sharp Williams intimated that senators and congressmen who criticize the Administration's conduct of the war are pro-German.

This is not a promising way of meeting the arguments of men who sincerely believe there is enough lack of co-ordination among the various departments of government to threaten our success in the war. To say that such a man as Chamberlain of Oregon, with his splendid record of patriotism, is pro-German is worse than ridiculous. By the same reasoning, Stone of Missouri, because he made one speech in defense of the Administration, should be held a shining example of American patriotism!

Frenchmen and Englishmen have not held their governments responsible during the strenuous years of war. They have criticized where grave faults existed, and on occasion they have not hesitated to make changes. We can not change our government; our President has a fixed term of office. We must stand by Woodrow Wilson, both because he is President of the United States and because he has done some big things very well. But standing by the President does not mean that, like courtiers in some Oriental court, we must stand around in complete silence when things go badly.

Senator Williams likened those who support the plan for a War Cabinet to "the committee of asses that almost ruined Lincoln." But Lincoln was less in need of outside criticism than Wilson is. He was constantly in touch with men of all shades of opinion. He did not hesitate to rub up against people who differed with him. On occasion he appointed to positions in his Cabinet men who had been ruthless in their personal hostility, who differed with him in politics, and who even, at the time of their appointments, towered above him in the estimation of the people.

Mr. Wilson sees fewer men than any President in our recent history. It is rare that those who are not in accord with his ideas get a chance to talk to him. It was because of this, probably, that Senator Chamberlain made his famous statement to the effect that the President does not know of faults in our conduct of the war which are known to many men in Congress.

If those who think there should be changes in our manner of conducting the war are not able to reach the President and are prevented from expressing their views by the fear of being called pro-German, we shall have a situation wholly out of line with our democratic traditions and dangerous to our success in the war.

As a matter of fact the War Council idea is not worthy of the noise that has been made over it. Probably Congress will not authorize the creation of such a board. If it does the President can constitute the board exactly as he desires and there will be no real change in the situation.

It is important, however, that reasonable and proper criticism of the Administration should not be crushed out by such methods as Senator Williams used on Monday. We must fight the war to a conclusion. We must all pull together; we must honor the President and in a large way stand by him. But the idea that we must build the walls of a Fortress City around our Chief Executive and then accept everything the Administration does, without complaint and even without comment, will not do in America. — Cincinnati Times-Star.

FARM ARTILLERY

The farm tractor's the thing. "Farm artillery" some people call it, and that's a good name for it. The idea is to "shoot food at the Kaiser."

At every automobile show the tractor is the center of interest. On any street, in any city, it will draw a crowd. The finest pleasure car is ignored. Everybody wants to see and know about the ugly, creaking little contraption that will plow, harrow, haul, pump water, saw wood, grind corn and, in general, do the work of half a dozen horses and several men.

There are 34,000 tractors already in use on American farms. There may be twice that many before the year's out. Henry Ford alone is making 50 a day. He's sending most of them to England. But there are plenty of other manufacturers on the job supplying the domestic market, and the production is increasing every week.

Public authorities, as well as private citizens, are waking up to the possibilities that tractors offer in the way of increased food output. Many cities are buying tractors to use in the spring, of old vacant lots for war gardens. States are going into the business on a huge scale. Most of the big agricultural states are giving demonstrations to familiarize farmers with the value of the tractors and the way to use them. Some are going further than that. Ohio is putting $1,000,000 of state funds into country banks to be loaned to farmers for the purchase of tractors.

With this powerful aid we may more than make up for the loss of farm labor due to the war. If we have bumper crops this year, as we should have, the tractor will do it.

A SHOCK FOR CONGRESS

There is now hope that congress will repeal the discriminatory 8 per cent special income tax imposed on salaries and professional incomes. The hope is based on the fact that the internal revenue department has pronounced congressmen themselves subject to the tax. They were formerly thought to be exempt, and that suspicion added bitterness to the chorus of criticism raised by the general public.

The congressmen themselves thought they were exempt. Those who knew what they were doing when they voted on the proposal—and that wasn't many of them—evidently voted in that belief. The adverse ruling must therefore come to them with somewhat of a shock.

The harder the shock, the better. They may be shocked into undoing a glaring injustice. It's quite right to make them pay the tax, if other citizens in a similar economic situation must do so. But nobody wants the lawmakers to pay more than their due share.

If there is to be a discriminatory tax levied on any kind of incomes, it should be on those derived from investments instead of those derived from work and service.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and went under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT THE MACHINERY SITUATION

Farm labor is going to be scarce this year. Every man who works on a farm this year should have the best possible equipment with which to work. His efforts should not be wasted because of a lack of tools to make them effective.

It is the duty of everyone of us to help get modern, up-to-date equipment in the hands of the farm workers. There are in implement stores and sheds and warehouses today thousands of farm implements which have been lying for months, some of them for years. In many cases these implements are held for unreasonable prices—for prices based on the present cost of manufacturing them instead of on the cost at the time they were made. Every implement dealer, wholesale or retail, who tries to get an excessive profit out of the farm tools he has on hand, instead of exerting every effort to get these tools out on the farms where they are needed, is a "lackey" or a "profiteer," just as you please.

On thousands of farms there are implements, still serviceable, which have been discarded on those farms but which are needed and could be utilized to advantage on other farms. Every farmer who has such implements and lets them lie unused, instead of making an effort to place them on the farms where they are needed, is a "shucker" or a "profiteer," just as you please.

Farmers' organizations, chambers of commerce, county agents, county agents, county food administrators—all who have a chance to help in doing so—owe it to the country to exert every effort to get every available farm implement in their territory in the hands of a man who can use it to advantage. Every individual farmer owes it to the nation and to his neighborhood to do the same thing.

If your neighbor cultivates his corn with a double shovel this summer while a more efficient tool that he can use lies idle on your place, you will not be doing your full duty as a neighbor and a citizen.

The ordinary way of doing things will not do this year. It will be a community shame and a community loss if a single farm worker in your neighborhood must do his work improperly equipped so far as tools go.

The best equipment will not be available in every case, but the best available should be put into the hands of every man. Let no farm worker fritter away his time and energy this year because of poor equipment. If better equipment can in any way be had for him. And let no man think that the duty to provide such equipment is the duty of that individual only. The prosperous farmer who sees his tenant neighbor thus wasting his time this year is duty bound to help that neighbor get better equipment for his daily work.—Southern Agriculturalist.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is no cure for catarrhal deafness, and that is in a constitutional ratio. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an abnormal condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed you have no hearing at all. Inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to a normal condition, hearing will then be restored. HOME TALENT PRODUCTION

Staged Several Nights Ago, by Lodge of Elks Will Be Repeated For Benefit of Stock Sales Division of Chamber of Commerce.

A joint meeting of the special committee appointed by Mayor Russell from council and the Stock Sales Division of the Chamber of Commerce met in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Saturday evening for the purpose of making plans to enlarge the Stock Sales on County Court Day.

They formulated a petition to present to Council setting forth the needs in order to make these Court Day Sales what they should be. It is possible that an extra session of council will be called to consider this petition in order that the committee may have ample time to prepare for the March sale.

Arrangements have been made to produce the home talent show presented under the auspices of the Elks last week. It is probable that the Chamber of Commerce will assume charge of the production this time with assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Jordan. The show will be presented on the 22 of February and the receipts will be given the Chamber of Commerce to place to the credit of the Stock Sales account.

The committee feel that the time is ripe to revive the old time Stock Sales and at the same time the citizens of one county and the adjoining counties would render our Government very patriotic service, in encouraging increased cattle production.

IN MEMORUM

At two o'clock last Thursday morning, February 7, Edith Worthington Kyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kyle, residents of Mill Creek community, left her friends and loved ones here and went to be with him who said, "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto Me, for to such belongeth the kingdom of heaven."

Her going was very unexpected. The previous Sunday afternoon she took the writer to Helena Station. At that time she was apparently in perfect health. In just a little more than three days she had started on a long journey. Aneurysm encephalitis was the cause.

Edith, "Jake", was such a lovable child that all who knew her mourn her departure. She was wealthy in smiles and laughter. With sunny disposition she was a favorite both at home and at school.

For three years Edith was a faithful member of the Department of Religious Education of the Mill Creek Christian Church. Yesterday morning at ten o'clock, the usual time, she entered the house of her Lord. This time, however, she came in a white carriage, borne by six of her little boy schoolmates. Six little girls, Alberta Wells Early, Louise Evans Calvert, Ruth Farris, Anna Lee, Elizabeth Berry and Besse Collins carried the flowers. Mrs. Charles Williams sang "I am a Child of the King," and the minister spoke from the text quoted above, Matt. 19:14.

Immediately following the services she was laid to rest in the Maysville cemetery.

The young pallbearers were Thomas Berry, Robert Allen Cook, William Ingram, Eugene Bramel, Lee Gaither and Russell Knight.

J. L. FINNELL, Minister.

EXAMINATIONS STOP

When County Exemption Board Receives Word That This County Will Be Given Credit For Colored Men Waiting to Be Called.

The Mason County Exemption Board received word Saturday from Adjutant General J. Tandy Ellis that this county would be given credit for the twenty-nine colored men who were examined several months ago, accepted as physically fit and now awaiting to be called into service.

Upon receipt of the message the local board immediately stopped its examinations of the white men who had been ordered to report as twenty-five had been accepted on Friday and this number was in excess of the number needed.

The original order to the local board about two weeks ago was that fifty more men would be needed immediately. However, this order was changed last week to forty-five men.

With twenty-nine colored men to help make up the quota, only sixteen of the twenty-five men accepted as physically fit last Friday will be called into service to fill out the number required in the first call. The remaining nine will be held in reserve in case any of the men are rejected at Camp Taylor.

It is not known when another call will be made but it will probably be several months.

IN HONOR OF MISS HARBDI

(Lexington Herald)
Mrs. Howard Hart was hostess on Friday afternoon of a charming bridge party given at the home of Mrs. A. Embry Allen in Aylesford in honor of her guest Miss Frances Harbdie, of Maysville. The rooms were lovely with plants and bouquets and after a very interesting game a delicious lunch was served and two pretty prizes of hand-made handkerchiefs were awarded. Miss Anna Howard Harbdie was presented with the first prize and Miss Doherty, of Maysville, the second. The afternoon was a very charming one and Mrs. Allen assisted the hostess in receiving sixteen guests being present.

STDRES AND FACTORIES MAY OPEN TOMORROW

There has been much speculation here for the past several days as to whether stores and factories will be required to close tomorrow, it being Lincoln's birthday and a holiday. Lincoln's birthday is a holiday in this state and many others, but as it is not a national holiday, County Fuel Administrator Browning says that it is certain the closing order does not apply. Maysville stores and factories, exception of the banks, will therefore be open as usual on tomorrow.

Mr. E. E. Clark of the Kentucky Repair Shop will be at Greenup all of this week. Mr. John Walsh will be at shop each afternoon after 2:30 p. m.
